

UltraLite Mk3 Hybrid MOTU FireWire & USB2 audio I/O for Mac & PC

As the first-ever "hybrid" audio interface of its kind, the UltraLite-mk3 Hybrid provides flexible and mobile operation via FireWire or hi-speed USB2 connectivity to a Mac or PC computer, with professional audio quality at sample rates up to 192 kHz and plenty of I/O, including two mic/instrument inputs, six line-level analog inputs, ten channels of analog output, stereo S/PDIF and a stereo headphone output.

Housed in a rugged, compact half-rack enclosure you can take anywhere, the UltraLite-mk3 Hybrid is equally well-suited for studio and stage, with or without a computer. As an interface or standalone mixer, the UltraLite-mk3

Hybrid provides 10 separate inputs and 14 separate outputs. Record, monitor, route and process all of these live inputs using the professional on-board CueMix FX digital mixer — with no latency and no processor strain on your computer. Apply hardware DSP-driven effects processing to inputs, outputs, and busses independent of your host computer. DSP effects include: Classic Reverb™; 7-band parametric EQ with modeled British analog console filters; a conventional compressor and the Leveler™, an accurate model of the legendary LA-2A™ optical compressor. The included CueMix FX cross-platform mixing software provides attractive graphic mixing, graphic editing of parametric EQ, and a convenient tabbed interface for quick feature access and advanced graphic signal analysis tools.

DJ Product update

PROBLEM

- Guest DJs keep unplugging / repatching everything
- I have Cable Hell at the back of my mixer
- How do I patch my scratch amp into THAT mess?
- DJ handovers are a nightmare!

SOLUTION

- Xone:PB - DJ Patchbay

XONE:PB

PATCH BAY

A 1U rack size passive interface box providing a quick and easy solution to set changes in busy club / festival line ups. The Xone:PB is designed to simplify the task of connecting encoded vinyl replay systems to installed mixers without the need to re-patch. Switches on the front panel select whether the mixer inputs are connected directly to the audio sources or diverted to the external sources, allowing very quick and simple interfacing to scratch amps or computer soundcards. The audio source connections on the front panel are duplicated, enabling two scratch amps to be connected to the same audio source for simple DJ handovers.

XONE XD-40

The new Xone XD-40 professional DJ headphones offer excellent audio fidelity in a comfortable, lightweight and compact format. The closed cup design provides good isolation from ambient noise, and minimal bleed. The extended, punchy bottom end is complemented by a crisp and detailed mid and upper range.

They are light and well padded, making them more comfortable and less fatiguing for extended use. The XD-40 join the Xone range alongside the already successful XD-53 headphones - as used by many world class DJs: John Digweed, Richie Hawtin and Chris Liebing to name but a few.
