

Service as Superior as Our Sound

Questions? Ask the Auralex Expert Engineers

With three decades of experience in acoustical treatment for commercial, pro audio, and residential applications, we are the recognized leader for engineered acoustical treatment solutions. Our experience means you can be confident that we will find a solution to fit your needs.

So if you have questions, we have answers.

How we work

Whether you choose our ELiTE-CFS or ProPanel Systems, we provide the same impeccable level of service to help guide you through the process of treating your venue or house of worship. While every situation is different, we can help you get from point A to point B and ensure you end up with the best sound possible.

First Things First

Once we have received detailed room layouts and fully understand your goals, a proposal will be put together detailing the treatment plan. We will work with your preferred AV dealer to help quote pricing based on the materials needed and the requirements of the installation.

Managing the Process

Auralex will work directly with you and your local dealer throughout the entire process – from initial design to finishing touches of installation – to ensure that all goals and established requirements are fully met. This includes coordinating the pre-installation details on ELiTE-CFS installations so the certified Auralex installers have everything they need when they arrive, which minimizes the disruption at the facility and ensures the job is completed on schedule.
